

Since 2002 NGR's mission has been to minimise the duplication of paperwork so growers and buyers can spend more time doing work that increases their profitability.

NGR is known for its rigorous, best-practice data management systems that protect your personal details and privacy. We use the same principles to protect your my eDOCS.

We see and hear our industry's frustrations. We know the time our growers spend on paperwork is better spent in the paddock. We know our data subscribers need instant access to standardised industry forms that seamlessly integrate with their business system.

In a world that is ever more complex, we simplify life.
